

Privacy Policy

Last updated sep 18, 2023

Tenten Pay understands the importance of your privacy and is committed to protecting it. This Policy describes the types of information we may collect from you or that you may provide when you visit our website or apps and our practices for using, maintaining, protecting and disclosing that information. This policy might be updated from time to time, so we recommend that you review this page periodically. In the event this Policy changes, we will inform you by posting an updated Policy on this web page. All changes will go into effect on the date noted above. The new Policy will apply to all past and current users of our website and will replace any prior Policies

What Information we collect and how we use it

We do not collect personally identifiable information from individuals unless they provide it to us voluntarily and knowingly. Visitors to our website and apps are not required to register or provide information to us in order to view our website or app, we need such information just in case they wanted to place an order or to contact us.

If you choose to establish a Tenten Pay account, we collect the following information about you: name, address(es), phone number, email address, and password. We use the information you supply for the purpose of providing the services you have requested, and as described in this Policy. In addition, we may from time to time contact you via email, SMS or phone unless you opt-out by following the instructions in the “opting out” section of this Policy.

If you shop with us, we collect the following information about you: name, addresses, phone numbers, email addresses, billing information including credit card numbers and expiration dates as well as the names, addresses and phone numbers of gift recipients (if any). We use your name, address, phone number and billing/credit card information to process your order or as otherwise described in this Policy.

The email address you provide is used for internal purposes, such as confirming and tracking your orders or as otherwise described in this Policy. We may also contact you occasionally via email, SMS or phone to keep you up-to-date on the latest Tenten Pay news. If you would like to opt out of receiving mailings from us, just let us know (see contact information below). Also, gift recipients may, from time to time, receive offers from us regarding new products and services that we think may be of interest to them. We allow gift recipients the option to opt out of receiving future marketing-related communications from us.

In certain instances, we may disclose your personally identifiable information when we have reason to believe that it is necessary to identify, contact or bring legal action against persons or entities who may be causing injury to you, Tenten Pay or others. We may also disclose your personally identifiable information when we believe the law requires it. In the event of a merger, consolidation or sale or transfer of all or substantially all of our company or its assets, personal information collected by our website may be transferred to the purchaser or the new company
